Commission Hears Ordinance To Clarify Motel Expansion

by Gunnar Norberg

Will the door be closed finally against any further expansion of the recently legalized motels in Carmel's residential areas?

That became the question before the Carmel Planning Commission at yesterday afternoon's long meeting, and the intent of the group seemed to be strongly toward closing the door firmly against any residential-area motel expansion.

City Attorney William Burleigh had prepared an ordinance incorporating new control language as a result of the decision of an ad hoc committee which had worked with him on the motel matter, and this came before the Commission yesterday. Members of the ad hoc committee were new Commission Chairman Charles McEwen and Commissioners Olof Dahlstrand and Dorothy von Meier.

Following a reading of the proposed ordinance by Chairman McEwen, the Commission heard from Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN, Ret.), head of the Carmel Citizens' Committee, and D. Paul Medalie, the Committee's secretary, who urged upon the Commission the need for the most definite and specific limitations to restrain any possible future effort looking toward expansion which might conceivably be made by any residential-area motel.

Councilman Frank Falge also addressed the Commission, emphasizing the great importance of removing any ambiguity in the terms to be used to prohibit any motel expansion. He was particularly concerned that no reconstruction at any motel should ever be allowed to lead to use of more than 35% of the site area—a concern also particularly shared by Commissioners Ted Fehring and Edward Neroda.

The tentative amending ordinance, drawn by Burleigh, provided that "no additional lodging units shall be permitted . . . No expansion or enlargement of total building floor area shall be permitted . . . Upon reconstruction or remodelling, total building floor area shall not be increased beyond that existing on the date of the issuance of the original use permit . . . that no additional kitchens shall be permitted on the site . . . (and) that building coverage shall not exceed 35% of the building site . . ."

Proposed changes in the wording of certain phrases and the order of paragraphs in the ordinance, led Chairman McEwen to return the proposed control ordinance to the ad hoc committee which had been working on it and to direct that committee to report again on the matter at the April 16th meeting of the Commission.

Meanwhile Burleigh assured the Commission that it could properly reject any new expansion request which might come before it while the matter of amendment of the motel ordinance might be pending.

In a related action, the Commission heard a staff report on the concept of changing the definition of a residential-area motel to one with "five or more units" instead of one with "four or more", and appeared to be generally in accord with such a revision in the description of such a motel.

The purpose of this revision is to discourage requests from persons with so-called "lodging house" permits who might want to seek to enter the motel classification. One such application—upon which the Commission has not yet taken any action—is that of R. T. Van Ostrand who holds such a lodging-house permit for his Manana Cottages on Camino Real south of Ocean avenue.

As the newly elected chairman of the Commission, McEwen appointed new standing committees. Named to the Planning and Conservation Committee were Commissioners Fred Keeble and Ted Fehring, while Commissioners Dahlstrand, Neroda, and Dorothea Roberts will make up the new Design Review Committee. Chairman McEwen and the Commission's vice chairman, Dorothy von Meier, will compose the Land Use Committee.

In other action, the Commission referred one use-permit request and one variance requests to its land-use committee for further study, while it granted a use permit and a variance to two other applicants. The request of George Booth for a use permit and of Mrs. C. Haber for a variance were referred to committee, while the use-permit request from Robert Derr (to build on a steeply sloping lot) and the variance request from Herbert Steward (to alter set-back requirements for a carport), were granted.

A request for a greater percentage of deviation from the phone company had triggered the new action.

Acting on requests for new signs in the business district, the Commission approved those presented by Heisler & Stewart, Carleton Billings, James Wallace, Frank Giordano, M. Barsella, Wilson P. Arnett, Willard Patton, Davies Devi, and Dr. Friedy B. Heisler. Two signs were approved with modifications—those of "Singapore Sam, Inc." and Phil Coniglio (for Mediterranean Market), while three were denied—those of H. Wayne Rice, Anselm Moore, and Robert Hill. Requests from Cypress West Hotel and the Tiki Hut to remodel entrances, were approved.

A request from "Bud" Allen, owner-manager of the La Playa Hotel, to seek new zoning to permit off-street parking on 1½ lots on the northwest corner of Camino Real & 8th led the Commission to establish a six-block "zone of interest" for such an application. Owners of properties in Blocks H, I, N, O, T, and U—all in the La Playa area—will be notified of the Allen request before any public-hearing date is designated.

Kite Festival Set For Middle School

Carmel's 39th annual Kite Festival has been scheduled this year for Apr. 12, 1:30 p.m. at Middle School.

The festival, which is sponsored jointly by the Carmel Lions Club and the Recreation Department of the Carmel Unified School District, was started by Rev. Willis White in 1930, and has been held each year since then.

For many years it was directed by Ernest Calley, a shop teacher at the former Sunset School. In the mid-fifties the Recreation Department took over and have been involved ever since.

The usual regulations for this contest will apply.

Each kite must be made by the contestant and must actually get into the air and fly in order to be eligible. Commercial, ready-made kites will be rejected. And kites entered in any previous year will not qualify for entry again this year.

Each kite may be entered in one of the four age groups only — 8 years and younger — 9 through 12 years — 13 through 15 years — 16 years and over. Three prize categories for all age groups will be the same: 1st — Highest Flying Kite; 2nd — Best Workmanship and 3rd — Prettiest Kite.

Another prize category will again be included this year for youngsters 12 years and younger who make their kites without adult assistance.

In addition to these prizes the Willis White Trophy, commemorating the founder, will again be awarded for Best International Design, and the Ernest Calley Perpetual Plaque Trophy will be awarded for the Grand Champion Kite—all donated by the Carmel Lions Club.

In the event of rain, the kite festival will be postponed to a later date—possibly the following Saturday.

Entry forms will be available at the festival.

ANDREA (MRS. ELDON) GILL — Carmel resident for 18 months, substitute teacher in Carmel and Monterey school districts, graduate of California State College at Long Beach with master's degree in English literature. Educated in U.S. and Mexico City. Speaks nine languages. Raised two sons. Active in Christian Science Church and Republican Women's Club. Hobbies, music and art, poetry and breadmaking.

Mrs. Gill writes: I concur with the Swiss child psychologist, Jean Piaget, who believes that education begins in the cradle. It continues only when assisted by dedicated teachers who encourage each individual to think for himself, each forming his own conclusions based on accumulated facts.

On a national level, I believe in the separation of Education from the Department of Health and Welfare. In other words, I believe that President Nixon should create a cabinet position exclusively devoted to education. Since I have no current family responsibilities, I would be able to devote much time to the job of school trustee.

Rev. James Brock, 38, incumbent, rector of St. Dunstan's Church, Carmel Valley since 1962. Graduate U. Colorado. Active Carmelo School Parents' Club (co-pres.), "Camp Amigos" (integrated summer day camp), "Operation Shoestring" Seaside, U.N. Children's Fund, Little League, Kiwanis, 4 children at CHS, Middle and Carmelo Schools.

Rev. Brock writes:

If there were three or four words to describe what I think is needed in this district, those words are practicality, openness and better communication.

It has been exciting to see the progress made with individualized instruction, so that what goes on in school will be relevant to the child's life. Children must be taught to think, solve problems and apply their learning to life situations. We are educating our children for their roles in life — not just for college.

Not all students are college bound.

Therefore we must do more in the much neglected area of vocational training.

We also need better means of communication. Unfortunately, people in the community feel that the school system is a self-sufficient island or "closed corporation." We need to build more bridges to this island and close the gaps of communications. One way we can do this is to use resource people from our community in the classrooms so that the children may benefit from their experiences.

Another is improvement in public relations, on the part of the School Board. I will do my best to bring about improvement in all these areas.

Violin Talks to AAUW

Jascha Veissi, noted concert violinist, now "artist-in-residence" at MPC told interesting incidents in his life to women of the community in "Operation Update" sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

Four members of his evening chamber music class of 20 students, were introduced and played a Mozart quartet for flute and strings. David Hagemeyer of Carmel played the viola part.

School Board Elections On for Apr. 15

Voters of the Carmel Unified School District will go to the polls Tuesday, April 15, to vote on candidates to take the places being left vacant by Clayton Neill, Jr. and Dr. Robert Newton whose unexpired term Rev. James Brock, rector of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, was chosen to fill.

Other members of the board are president Stephen Sasoon, who operates his own engineering firm, Richard Wilson, Carmel attorney, and Dr. Hialek V. Bla-lek, research psychologist. The Monterey County Board of Education, so beset by strife about EDINN last year, will have vacancies to fill also. Running from this area are Richard Bragg of Carmel Point who is head of the Monterey County Industrial Development Inc., and John Shepard, attorney, incumbent. Mr. Bragg's main concern is vocational training for those who need it.

Ralph B. Atkinson is running unopposed for reelection to the Board of Trustees of M.P.C.

JAMES I. MILLER, 35, co-owner and manager with father, Leo F. Miller, Carmel, of Monterey business. B.S. in Business Administration UC Berkeley. US Naval Reserve, 17 years, Monterey service organizations: MP Jaycees, MP Rotary, other organizations: First Presbyterian Church, Monterey, Pacheco Club, CV Tennis Club. Three children, two at River School.

Mr. Miller writes:

As a parent of elementary school age children and a graduate of Carmel High School I have an active interest in the education offered by Carmel Schools.

My qualifications for the school board include a business background of two years as a commissioned officer in the Supply Corps, U. S. Navy, and eleven years of management of a local retail and service business. With this experience I feel that I can offer the needed business/management approach to school district problems. As past president of the Jr. Chamber of Commerce, and a member of Rotary and other service organizations I have maintained close contact with public feelings regarding the educational needs of our Peninsula school children.

If elected, I would serve to maintain and improve the quality of education offered by our Carmel schools system and to provide an appropriate environment for learning for our school children.

RUTH (MRS. JOHN B.) MORRICE, Carmel resident for five years, B.A., M.A., English literature, Boston U., studied educational psychology and counseling at San Jose State. Has taught in colleges, high schools and at present is teacher principal of Olympia School in San Juan Bautista. Mother of four, two CHS graduates now at college, one at River, the other at Middle schools.

Mrs. Morrice writes:

I believe in prescriptive education beginning with the child at whatever seems to be his present level of growth and achievement, giving as much of our heritage as the child can absorb while setting him in motion individually to go after more and to develop more and to learn to think and to live with other folks for the good of all. We should not forget the new ways of doing nor neglect the thorough grounding as needed now as in the past.

Teachers need to be of the best from all ages and varieties to give breadth and maturity and true built in counseling to each student. Athletics and music, art, drama, business mechanical training for jobs are all needed as well as courses for the recreation and re-training of adults and older persons.

We must pick up the child from where he is and take him as far as he can go.

BARBARA (MRS. WILLIAM A.) SANFORD — Carmel area resident 10 years, 4 children, Public Safety Consultant. Attended Drew School, S.F. and College of San Mateo, U.S. Air Force veteran. On board of directors: Mission Trails Heart Assn., Carmel chapter Red Cross, Drug Information and Youth Crisis Center. Member and instructor in various first aid organizations, Sierra Club.

REGINALD W. DEWAR — Big Sur resident 1½ years, married, 39, no children, Public Safety Consultant. Attended Drew School, S.F. and College of San Mateo, U.S. Air Force veteran. On board of directors: Mission Trails Heart Assn., Carmel chapter Red Cross, Drug Information and Youth Crisis Center. Member and instructor in various first aid organizations, Sierra Club.

Mr. Dewar writes:

I believe in progressive education methods, i.e., matching the students ability to progress, with courses that are interesting, stimulating and motivating. The individual student should be allowed to progress within his ability and skill levels as rapidly as possible. That neither the gifted student nor the slow student should be "locked into" a program designed to fit only the average."

It is my belief that the community will support a construction program based upon adequate advance overall planning and demonstrated need for the facility. New facilities must be basic, functional and designed to fit the intended need. ADDITIONALLY, methods must be devised to provide greater and more efficient utilization of EXISTING facilities.

As for the year round school, initiate a very complete, in-depth study and long range planning program with consideration of all factors. IF FEASIBLE (based upon experience of other districts, the results of the study and the availability of a complete long range program) the program should be implemented as soon as possible.

I favor immediate formation of a Teacher Advisory Commission, and a Parents Advisory Commission.

Brilliant Cast Selected for 'Ten Little Indians'

"Ten Little Indians," Agatha Christie's macabre tale of multiple murders which scored a smash success in both New York and London, opens Friday, Mar. 28, at the Circle Theater as a presentation of the Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula.

The play features an 11 member cast, each of whom will be killed in the manner prescribed by the "Ten Little Indians" nursery rhyme until there are only two left.

Jean McBride has been cast as the lovely secretary employed by an unknown employer for unknown tasks. Jean, who is making her local theatre debut, is a graduate of the theater department at Texas Christian University, and was a member of the Theater Three company in Dallas, and the Alley Theater in Houston.

Playing Philip Lombard, the adventurous army officer who gets more adventure than he bargained for on a weekend visit, is Dan Cawthon. Dan is a newcomer to local little theater, and before coming to Carmel taught college English in Oklahoma City.

Sir Lawrence Wargrave, the acid-tongued judge who sentenced an innocent man to die will be played by Bill Scholefield. Bill is a past president of the Board of Governors of the Community Theater, and his last appearance as an actor was in the Circle's record-breaking hit "Any Wednesday."

Betty Fowlston will play Emily Brent, a puritanical spinster who faces retribution for driving an erring girl to suicide. Her wide range of talent is well known in this area.

Milton Hayes plays the neurotic nerve specialist who is slated to die for fatally bungling an operation. Milton recently won kudos from the audience and press for his performance as the arrogant buffoon, Sir, in the Circle's production of "Roar of the Greasepaint."

General Mackenzie, the old soldier who is one of the "Indians" who has killed and gotten away with it, will be played by veteran actor Bob Lotz. Bob's credits include 15 years of professional theater experience.

Tim Gleason, who plays William Blore, a not too bright detective who is one of the terrified guests on the lonely island, is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley.

Harry Graham plays the mysterious butler in the spooky house where the multiple murders take place. Harry last appeared at the Circle as George the bartender in "Ah Wilderness."

Mark Oman plays the giddy Oxonian who is one of the first of the "Indians" to pay the death penalty. Mark studied at UCLA and Valley State College.

Playing Fred, the boatman, is John Sullivan, a veteran of tent shows, Chautauquas and vaudeville.

Ruth McElroy, in a brief cameo role, plays Mrs. Rogers the cook, who is doomed to pay with her life for murdering a former employer for a legacy. Mrs. McElroy, between seasons in professional stock, has delighted audiences in such plays as "Misalliance," "Arsenic and Old Lace," and last season's production of "Harvey."

"Ten Little Indians," under the direction of Michael Keller, will play for six weekends with performances on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 and 7:30 on Sundays. Phone reservations are now being accepted at 624-2669.

Statement of Employees of Crichton House Restaurant

Our Local Union won a National Labor Relations Board Election at the Crichton House Restaurant in Carmel on August 23, 1968. The vote cast by the employees was very decisive in favor of the Union — 12 to 1. Winning the Election required our Employer to bargain in good faith with the Union.

The Union did not anticipate any problem in attempting to have our Employer sign the Standard Industry Agreement, as it merely sets the minimum wages, hours, working conditions and benefits for his employees, thus allowing a restaurant that sells very low priced food and beverages to compete with the higher priced restaurants. All during the negotiations, our Employer never appeared at any of the negotiation meetings, but was represented by an Employer's Representative.

After weeks that stretched into months of fruitless negotiations, the Crichton House proposed an Agreement that tore down the basic minimum Industry standards.

Finally, on January 20, 1969, we requested that the Union grant us Strike Sanction, and pickets were placed at this Restaurant on January 31st.

A meeting was proposed by the Union to be held on March 13, 1969, and a letter was sent to our Employer asking him to participate in an effort to settle this dispute, but only his Representative appeared.

After the employer proposed only a minor concession, the Union was confronted with a request to work out a Strike Settlement Agreement. [There were two Union members who were working behind the Picket Line, and had been tried by a Trial Committee, with their recommendations to be submitted to the next membership meeting.] It was "understandable" why the Employer insisted on an Amnesty provision for these employees.

BUT WHAT MADE THEIR PROPOSAL SO BIZARRE WAS THEIR REQUESTING THE UNION TO AGREE THAT NO EMPLOYEE WHO WENT OUT ON STRIKE SHOULD BE REHIRE, EVEN THOUGH MOST OF US HAD WORKED FOR THIS EMPLOYER FOR YEARS.

We have no alternative but to continue our picketing of this Establishment. We had hoped not to file an unfair labor practice charge with the National Labor Relations Board, but we must resort to the protection afforded us under the Law.

We would like to express our appreciation to the City of Carmel and its Police Department for the consideration and fairness afforded us, and we would especially like to thank our many friends who are supporting us.

This is not a strike called by the Union to get a Contract, but is a strike to afford we, the employees, the same minimum benefits that nearly all other Hotel and Restaurant employees have enjoyed for years.

We ask the people of this community for their support, for our cause is just.

Monterey Symphony Review

By Rachel Morton

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra under the superb direction of conductor Haymo Taeuber scored again in another fine concert at the Sunset Auditorium Tuesday night.

Their concerts this season have been outstanding but this one, the most ambitious of them all, surpassed the others. The program itself was choice and bespoke a conductor who knew not only how to build a program of great composers, but who had the courage and rare talent to successfully present them with a mostly amateur orchestra.

Added to this good fare was the astonishing virtuoso playing of the Russian pianist, Dimitri Bashkirov, who played Robert Schumann's Piano Concerto in A minor. This pianist is considered comparable to Richter, Gilels and Ashkenazy.

At once, with the smash-bang entrance of the Allegro, one recognized a musical giant. But a giant who could be tender as well. His limpid tone shone in the delicate runs and there was deep sensitivity in his interpreting.

The excitement in his playing stirred the orchestra and there was a continued interchange of musical understanding between the two. Although he "lighted up" the players, he did so as a partner.

The power of his left hand was formidable, but in the musing mood of the Intermezzo he brought out all the romanticism of Schumann.

There were globules of color in the liquid runs, immaculately played, while the staccato were crisp and biting. In the Vivace his fingers skimmed over the keys to a flashing finish. It was a magnificent performance, only supported by the orchestra, and both he and the conductor received many enthusiastic recalls.

The concert opened with the Prelude to "Tristan and Isolde" by Richard Wagner, with a considerably augmented orchestra. From the first throbbing chords, we felt involved in the tragic sadness of the ill-fated lovers, Tristan and Isolde, in music which rose and fell, crashing and receding, overwhelmingly beautiful.

"Death and Transfiguration," a Symphonic Poem by Richard Strauss, was given a magnificent performance. Without score, Mr. Taeuber led his players with vigor and knowledge.

In a great melange of gorgeous orchestration — rich, vehement, tremendous — there was need indeed for a largely augmented orchestra and Taeuber assembled a worthy one.

The seething of life; the great tumult of existence came at last to triumph — in the calm beauty of the music of the transfiguration, music so soothing, so deeply moving in glorious harmonies, the heavens seemed to open wide.

The orchestra rose to great heights in this performance, inspired by its conductor.

In great contrast, (and contrast is good program making) came the "Bolero" by Maurice Ravel. The plucked strings in monotonous rhythm began the weird music, faintly at first, gaining momentum steadily in slow rhythm.

Taeuber built up gradually the volume until, with two snare drums beating relentlessly on side-stage, the full orchestra, louder and louder, joined in a wild savage dance. It was a tremendous performance, which brought the conductor and orchestra bravos and many recalls.

Ed. Note: The same concert given at Monterey Peninsula College Gym on Sunday evening, had a very good turnout, it was reported.

10 years, and director of the Vienna Boys Choir for 4 years.

Under Taeuber's direction, the performance will strive to preserve the original balance between orchestra and chorus. Three of the soloists have performed "The Messiah" with the Monterey Choral Society previously.

Soprano Norma Jean Hodges, who sang last year, has made frequent appearances in San Francisco and at the Carmel Bach Festival; alto Glenn DeWeese, who also appeared last year, is a member of the professional chorale for the Bach Festival; and baritone Marvin Klebe has appeared with the San Francisco and San Diego Opera Companies.

The public is invited to attend the performance. Tickets are now on sale at nominal prices at Abinante's Music Store (372-5893) and the NPS Protestant Chaplain's Office (646-2241). All seats are reserved.

HANDEL'S "MESSIAH" will be conducted by Vienna music professor Haymo Taeuber and performed by the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society and the Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra Sunday, Mar. 30 at 3 p.m., in the Naval Postgraduate School's King Hall. Taeuber is a graduate of the Vienna State Academy for Music and Felix von Weingartner's Masters Course in Conduction at Basel, Switzerland.

The 90-voice Monterey Peninsula Choral Society will join the Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra for a single performance of George Frederick Handel's powerful oratorio, "The Messiah," Sunday, Mar. 30 at 3 p.m., in the Naval Postgraduate School's King Hall.

The Easter classic will be directed by Haymo Taeuber, a graduate of the Vienna State Academy for Music and the famed Felix von Weingartner's Masters Course in Conduction at Basel, Switzerland. This is the first season that the Vienna music professor has directed the Monterey Choral Society.

Well known to European audiences, Taeuber was guest conductor of the Vienna Symphony Orchestra for 20 years, conductor of the Vienna City Opera for

Brose Shows Experimental Skill

By Louise Cook

The one-man show running this month at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association reveals the versatility of Dr. Raymond E. Brose, the artist being honored.

The many styles and techniques of Brose confirm the fact that he is not afraid to experiment. He indulges in trompe l'oeil in super realistic water colors of "The Adobe Wall" and "Remember-ances of the California Gold Rush."

"Summer Nude" and "Sapphire Nude" contrast with one another. The former done in warm golds and greens, the latter in cool blues. Dr. Brose shows great control of his water colors in the texture and forms of these nude studies.

Another facet of talent is achieved in three imaginative cities. Painted in small fragments of jewel tones, "Mosaic City," "Gothic City" and "Metropolitan Fragments" glow in the exciting colors of stained glass.

He applies the same technique to figure studies in "Prismatic Figure" and "Fractured Figure," both created of small divided areas of brilliant color.

"The Green Table," an acrylic of fish and fruit is another of Dr. Brose's painted mosaics. Glacial "Mountain Thaw" is an icily cold opaque water color which achieves a chilling effect.

Dr. Brose will hold his 1969 workshop "Techniques in Oil Painting" at Sunset Center Mar. 31 - Apr. 3.

'Oklahoma!' Comes To CHS Brey Hall

"Oklahoma!" is a first for Carmel High School.

Opening Apr. 24 for six performances, "Oklahoma!" the classic Rogers and Hammerstein Broadway smash, will be Carmel's High first musical theater production.

Critically noted as the first 'modern' musical, Oklahoma brought overwhelming post World War II success to the famed composer-lyricist team, and stands as the milestone in America's key contribution to live theatre, the musical play.

Unlike previous popular musical forms, Oklahoma blended dance, music and dialogue into a unified whole, where each art form was a direct outgrowth of plot rather than a musical number "set" into the framework of a show.

Fast-moving, filled with comedy, and balanced with serious folk drama and dance, Oklahoma seemed the ideal choice for Carmel High's initial venture into the musical "comedy" form.

Carmel's production could be called the "big intimate" show, as it will be performed with full cast and chorus in 175 seat Brey Hall. The hall's thrust stage will bring the action close to the audience.

The leading roles are doubled, so the audience can also look forward to two casts of principle players from which to choose.

Dale Lefler has been choreographing the multiple dance numbers specifically to fit Brey Hall's unusual stage area. Musical direction is by Henry Avila, with dramatic direction by Miss Diana Hardy, both of Carmel's faculty.

William Stone, art instructor at the high school, is in charge of sets, which have been designed under the auspices of the commercial art class.

Miss Crystal Gips, English instructor, has been working on correlating the costumes, which have been designed by Jane Mewhirter and Larissa Robinson, students of Carmel High.

The production will run Apr. 24, 25, 26, 30 and May 1 and 2.

Movie Review

Joanna — Irresponsible Joanna explores mod, amoral London life to the fullest, going from lover to lover until one teaches her responsibility. Genevieve White is the star.

The High Commissioner — Christopher Plummer and Red Taylor star in a satisfying tale of international intrigue. Great story, direction and performances.

Bullitt — A beautifully photographed chase is the outstanding feature of this generally excellent film. Steve McQueen, Robert Vaughn and newcomer Jacqueline Bisset.

The Killing of Sister George — Potentialities and pitfalls of trying to put sexual deviation on the screen. Comes off pretty well with Beryl Reid, Susannah York and Coral Browne.

Where Eagles Dare — Great suspense stuff during WWII rescue of U.S. general from Gestapo headquarters castle. Fantastic goings on and lots of action.

The Party — Peter Sellers and director Blake Edwards team for the third time in this comedy about a thoroughly incompetent and bumbling actor from India lost in the jungles of Hollywood.

Hell in the Pacific — Only two actors in this WWII film, Lee Marvin as an American flyer and Toshiro Mifune as a Japanese soldier. Both are the only men on a remote Pacific Island.

The Lion In Winter — Peter O'Toole and Katherine Hepburn turn in outstanding performances in this drama of Henry II and his queen. Great dialogue and a great film.

Barbarella — Jane Fonda is well cast as a super-astronautress in the year 40,000 looking for a nut with a death ray. Perils and love-making beset her in her search.

The Wrecking Crew — Spy spoof with Dean Martin playing himself — cool, relaxed, smooching, drinking, the whole bit. Great comedy with Sharon Tate, Tina Louise, Elke Sommer and Nancy Kwan.

'Opal' Calls for Superb Physical Conditioning for Babs Richardson

Babs Richardson is appearing in "Everybody Loves Opal" at the Studio Theatre, and not only is she the completely finished comic, but by virtue of the demands of the part, has just got one of the most resilient individuals in the theater today.

During the course of this completely wacky comedy, Babs Richardson is clouted by a falling ceiling, pulled on-stage by the arms, off-stage by the feet and on-stage again by the arms. She is knocked down, falls down, dumped on the couch, falls off the couch, dumped on the couch again and suffers other bashing, pushing, carrying physical abuse.

And the audience loves every episode.

But she always comes up smiling and still loving the humans who have subjected her to such torture.

This is the second time Miss Richardson has played "Opal," and that she would undertake it again is a testimonial to her superb physical condition.

"Everybody Loves Opal" was written by John Patrick, who set up a series of hilarious situations, surrounded them with sparkling dialogue, used one of the funniest sight-gags ever invented as a fuse, then stood back and let the firecrackers explode.

The only problem is that in order to be effective, this

Polo Season Opens

The polo season at Pebble Beach will get underway May 11 with the annual North-South high goal match.

Richard Collins, equestrian director at Pebble Beach, announced the match was changed from Apr. 27 to the May 11 date because of the late season in Southern California.

"Rains in the southern part of the state have delayed the polo season in Palm Springs because of wet and slippery turf," Collins explained.

type of comedy must be timed to a fine hair, and director Dave Kirk has done a masterful job in keeping the dialogue crackling and the action moving, extracting the ultimate in comedy from each line and situation.

His cast, of course, gives Kirk full cooperation, which makes his job somewhat easier.

Babs Richardson, accomplished actress that she is, takes command any time she is on-stage and her presence is felt even when she isn't. It is certain that she has been away too long — five years — and local producers would do well to make sure she doesn't leave again.

Suzann Newell, as a sleazy blonde con woman, Thomas L. Marr as a one-lunged ex-con, and James Lancina as the bearded tough guy are three of the finest supporting actors we've seen locally in some time.

The three accept Opal's hospitality, then hatch a plot to insure her, bump her off and collect.

The action, which is without letup throughout the entire production, climaxes in a hilarious scene in which Opal gets her final bumping around.

Rod Allison as the policeman and self-appointed protector of Opal is excellent.

The tremendously funny running sight-gag has to do with a flock of tea bags, the details of which you ought to find out for yourself.

However, when you do decide to find out about the tea bags, might as well make reservations for one of Walter Jones' incomparable dinners at the same time, and preferably a couple of weeks at least in advance.

And while the play is going on, pay close attention to the outstanding sets and lighting by Bob Evans Jr., the stage management by Randy Sitton and Mary Stefani, and the John Nichols set construction.

Play runs weekends at 8:30 Friday and Saturday, Sundays 7:30. For reservations call 624-1661.

Handweavers Meet

Two Carmel residents have been active for the past year working for the 1969 Conference to be held in Richmond Memorial Auditorium, Richmond, on April 26-27. They are Mrs. Issac (Joni) Clayton and Mr. George Davis.

Davis has worked to bring interesting Educational Displays to the Conference. These include fiber and fabrics from other countries, and also student work from several Colleges and adult schools.

Mrs. Clayton is co-Chairman of Demonstrations. This art-in-action feature is always one of the most popular features of the Conference. She has enlisted Mrs. Warren Crabtree of the Carmel Craft Guild to show the method and results of the inkle loom. As local residents know, Mrs. Crabtree is an enthusiastic weaver who involves herself the whole way by preparing her own yarns by spinning and dyeing the wool she uses.

"Traveling Gourmets"

What a perfect way to retire . . . one year motoring in Europe, the next resting in Carmel. This has been the happy pattern that Mr. and Mrs. George Vye have enjoyed since their retirement 12 years ago.

Residents of Carmel since 1924, this adventurous couple recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a gala luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. John Dowdak in Carmel Valley.

This lively event recalled their twenty-fifth anniversary fete which had also taken place in Carmel.

The menu entitled "25 years of Entente Cordiale" and the words used for the dishes served in 1944 were war-time expressions. Mrs. Vye is French and her husband English and they both worked practically around the clock with the American Red Cross in London during World War II.

The 25-year-ago celebration began with "Aperitif Naturalize" (Naturalized Appetizer Drink); "Vins Immigrés" (Immigrated Wines); "Crevettes échappées des sous-marins Japonais" (Prawns escaped from Japanese submarines); "Dinde Americaine farcie aux Nations Unies" (American Turkey stuffed with United Nations); "Salade Victory Garden); "Tarte aux Pom-mes — vieille tradition" (Apple tarts in the old tradition); "Café et Fine — mal du pays" (Coffee and brandy — homesick style); "Champagne la Victoire" (Victory Champagne).

Now, wasn't that a banquet?

Helene Vye, with her French flair, owned a tres chic dress shop and George Vye, brought up in England's lovely countryside, ran a landscaping business in Carmel until their retirement, except during their war work in London.

But while in Carmel, Mrs. Vye also ran the Free French Relief Shop at the Pine Inn and Mr. Vye contributed his share of time with the "Bundles for Britain."

Apropos of Helene Vye's many activities, "A sidewalk cafe of gay Paris in the springtime served as a backdrop for the Carmel Art Association's French Night Party. Aside from the many supper dishes prepared by members, Helene Vye turned out a ragout of beef for which she is renowned.

Nowadays George Vye does the marketing and cooking, which he learned from his French mother-in-law. Here is a menu of their choice for a delicious Carmel dinner intime . . . small dinner.

Two lbs. fresh scallops; 2 cups water; 1½ t. salt; 2 small minced shallots; 1 cup mushrooms, sliced thin; 1 stick butter; 8 large scallop shells. Sauce made from 1 stick butter; 4 t. flour; 1½ cups creamy milk; 2 cups scallop juice; 1 t. salt; speck of pepper and grated lemon rind; 1 t. dry mustard; few grains cayenne pepper; ¼ cup Madeira wine; bread-crums; chopped parsley.

Wash and dry scallops and put in hot oven until they open; remove black frill and slice scallops in thirds. Simmer the scallops in salted water until tender. Save the liquid. Sauté the shallots and mushrooms briefly in butter; remove them, and in same butter, with more added, add the flour, rubbing with spatula to a smooth paste.

Stir in cream slowly, stirring constantly with scallop juice (water in which scallops were simmered); taste for more salt, pepper and add grated lemon rind.

When cream sauce is formed, add mustard, cayenne and Madeira. Mix this sauce with scallops, shallots and mushrooms. Fill scallop shells with this, cover each with bread-crums and melted butter.

Brown under broiler and garnish with chopped parsley. Serves 8.

Ragout of Beef

Four lbs. top round of beef; 4 t. butter; 4 t. brandy; 12 small white peeled onions; 1 clove garlic, minced; 4 t. flour; 2 t. Worcester-shire sauce; 2 cups con-somme; 2 cups dry red wine; salt and pepper to taste; bouquet of herbs; freshly chopped parsley.

Cut beef in large squares and brown quickly in hot butter; pour warmed brandy over this. Remove beef from pan. Put onions and garlic in this pan and brown quickly, then remove. Add Wor-cestershire sauce and flour, stir until this comes to a boil. Add garlic and beans (previously soaked overnight and half cooked for about 1 hour.) Return chicken to this large skillet of heavy caste iron with sausage. Cover and simmer until chicken and beans are tender (latter should not be broken.) Sauté cut up chicken livers in butter and add with raw sliced tomatoes. Heat through and keep hot in casserole. Serves 8.

Now add the beef with the bouquet of herbs. Cover and simmer very slowly, about two hours or until meat is tender. Add the onions and garlic 25 minutes before serving.

Remove bouquet and put the ragout into a decorative casserole, sprinkle top with chopped parsley. Keep hot as seconds are always in order with crisp hard French rolls or bread. Serves 8.

Cassoulet

Two small chickens; hot butter; ½ cup diced cold pork; 2 t. tomato paste; 2 cups chicken stock; 1 clove garlic; 1 lb. white flageolet beans; ½ lb. sliced garlic sausage; 3 tomatoes; salt and pepper to taste; chicken livers.

Cut chicken in serving portions and brown in butter. Remove and in same pan, saute cold pork; add tomato paste. Blend and add stock; stir until this comes to a boil. Add garlic and beans (previously soaked overnight and half cooked for about 1 hour.) Return chicken to this large skillet of heavy caste iron with sausage. Cover and simmer until chicken and beans are tender (latter should not be broken.) Sauté cut up chicken livers in butter and add with raw sliced tomatoes. Heat through and keep hot in casserole. Serves 8.

Traveling by freighter from our West Coast to Genoa, Italy, the Vyes disem-bark in the car they have brought along. Then motor-ing is a special pleasure, stopping at hotels or auberges or taking an apartment on the Cote d'Azur, yachting or just enjoying the sunshine and beautiful flowers. But they always return to Carmel!

Carmel Girls Sponsor Nevada Indian

Eileen Williams, Amy Limber and Donna Gaulardt of Carmel are sponsoring Emerita, a ten-year-old American Indian girl from the Paiute tribe of McDermitt, Nev., through Save the Children Federation, international child welfare organization of Norwalk, Conn.

The sponsorship will provide clothing, school supplies, personal books and spending money which will enable the child to take part in school activities. The average Indian youngster leaves school before the eighth grade, often for lack of these bare essentials.

Part of the sponsorship contribution will be pooled with funds donated by other sponsors to help the members of the tribe accomplish self-help projects of their own choosing.

Indian men, women and young people are contributing all the labor to such projects as building health clinics, libraries and community centers.

Sponsorship funds are supporting Federation summer programs where boys and girls learn vocational skills while they earn back-to-school funds.

To combat the language barrier which is considered a major reason Indian youngsters lag two years behind their non-Indian classmates in school, the Federation helps tribal communities secure building supplies and school materials for kindergartens where English is taught to five-year-olds before they enter first grade.

Democrats Sponsor Contest for Great Seal Design

The "Great Seal" contest is on.

The Monterey Democratic County Central Committee is sponsoring a "Great Seal" contest open to high school and college students of Monterey County schools during the months of March and April.

The seal will appear on all official correspondence of the Democratic Central Committee.

"Generally speaking, the design should be representative of Monterey County's colorful history, some landmark or special characteristic of the county's colorful history, some landmark or special characteristic of the county's economic and agricultural significance," explained Mrs. Anita C. Arellano Pohlhammer, member of the County Central Committee's "Great Seal" review panel.

Designs should be drawn in India ink on standard size (8½" x 11") white paper with only an identifying number, the student's initials and school's name appearing at the bottom edge of the paper.

"This is important," Mrs. Pohlhammer said "to insure unbiased judging of the designs." The student should also attach an official entry blank or an additional sheet of paper on which the following information should appear: (a) full name and identifying number of artist, (b) address and telephone number, (c) name of school, (d) year in school, (e) how student heard of contest.

Entry blanks may be obtained from school counselors, "Young Democrat" club advisors or by sending a postcard request to P.O. Box 145, Pacific Grove, CA 93950.

Deadline is April 21st.

He and his wife Marie have lived in Carmel for four years. A graduate of Univ. of Minnesota, a retired naval officer, his hobbies are now golf and barbershop quartet singing.

Jack Berquist has been on the Monterey Peninsula for more than two years. An ex-baseball player from the S.F. Giants farm and a tennis teacher, he worked for the Berkeley Squire Men's Store in L.A. and with Hastings at Del Monte Center before joining the Grissim organization.

YMCA DRIVE

More than 640 peninsula residents have contributed $32,289 to the Monterey Peninsula YMCA's 1969 current support campaign in amounts ranging from $1 to $5000, according to Russ Harris, campaign chairman.

"This is 85% of our goal," said Harris, "which means we're approaching our goal of financial strength to carry on the YMCA's work during the coming year."

"However," he pointed out, "it also means we are still $5400 short of the projected need, and we are planning a cleanup to go over the top."

As a first step toward that cleanup, YMCA Board Members will be making telephone contact with about 400 prospects who were not visited by a campaigner during the campaign.

All contributions will be acknowledged with a receipt for tax purposes, and donors of $35 or more will become sustaining members — voting members of the Monterey Peninsula YMCA, Inc., who makes the YMCA's youth work program possible.

Changes Set for Mission Personnel

Bishop Harry Clinch, Bishop of Monterey, has appointed Reverend George McMenamin as pastor of Carmel Mission Basilica in Carmel.

Father McMenamin has been pastor of the Old Mission at San Juan Bautista since July of 1962.

He will succeed Monsignor James Marron who will assume new duties as pastor of St. Rose parish in Paso Robles.

A native of the Monterey Peninsula, Father McMenamin helped guide tours through Carmel Mission as a teenager when he was helping the sexton on Saturday days.

Later, he became active in Carmel theatre, working both with Ted Kuster at the original Golden Boughe Theatre on Ocean Avenue, and also with Bert Heron at the Forest Theatre.

Before his ordination, Father McMenamin worked with NBC in Los Angeles, starting as a page and progressing to announcer before entering service in World War II.

Father McMenamin's father, Emmet McMenamin, is well known in the Peninsula area as County Clerk of Monterey County, a position he has held for the past 25 years. Mr. McMenamin was honored in 1966 by the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce of "Man of the Year," for his long years of devoted work.

Father McMenamin will assume his new position at Carmel Mission Basilica on April 11.

Monsignor Marron is a native of County Sligo, Ireland, and an alumnus of All Hallows Seminary, Dublin, Ireland. In June 1943 he was ordained there for service in the Monterey-Fresno Diocese.

Following his ordination, he held the position of assistant pastor in parishes in Watsonville, Santa Cruz and Fresno.

After a brief pastorate in Mariposa and Yosemite in 1951, Monsignor Marron was named pastor of St. Patrick's Parish, Arroyo Grande — a post he held until he was named pastor of Carmel Mission Basilica.

In July, 1965 he was made a Papal Chamberlain with the title of Very Reverend Monsignor.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

By Raymond MacDonald

Q. What is the new provision for a child to receive Social Security from his mother's account?

A. The new law will allow about 175,000 more children to receive payments from their mother's Social Security record. A child can now qualify under his mother's account just as he does under his father's account. Prior to this year, the mother had to meet several requirements before the child could receive benefits. She had to be currently insured or have 1½ years of work in the 3-year period before her death, disability or retirement, or she had to furnish one-half the support of the child. Both of these requirements have been eliminated and the child is eligible on his mother's account if she is fully insured.

Q. I draw a wife's benefit and have no work credits under Social Security. Can I qualify for health insurance when I am 65?

A. Yes. Anyone who qualifies for benefits as the dependent or survivor of an insured worker will qualify for health insurance at age 65 without regard to his own earnings record.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o The Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel or phone Social Security office 373-3351).

Carmel Travelers

(Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bannister of Orinda have had a summer vacation home in Carmel. They have just returned from South America, and their amusing letters will be carried periodically in the Pine Cone.)

The money situation in South America is something — each country has its own money, so just as we think we are on to the sol, we change to the escudo, then to the peso, etc., etc. Now we are into the 1,000, 5,000, 10,000 bill notes, and the men feel as if they are spending their entire inheritance!

Unfortunately, the peso is written with the $ sign, so when you see something marked $39,500, you don't spend much time considering it. However, one American dollar is worth 350 pesos, so it isn't quite as bad as it appears at first glance.

The men in our group are all so involved financially, they will probably have to set up a corporation or something to settle their golfing and gin rummy bets.

Whenever a restaurant bill or something is to be paid, invariably someone or several run out of the current money, so until they can get more money changed, they borrow from someone else. By the time you can pay back the loan, we are in another country, and the whole thing starts over again! Yesterday I had to pay the golf prizes in pesos, and by the time I made change, I never was sure everyone received what he deserved!

Carmel Inn Boasts Color TV, Meals, Snacks and Recreation for Seniors

Buenos Aires is a fabulous city, with beautiful parks, and many clubs for swimming, tennis, polo and pato (basketball on horseback). Here again, the city is clean, and the people well dressed.

We have a marvelous guide here, (as we did in Santiago). Her name is Ingrid, and she is very vivacious. She has taken such a fancy to the golfing Gauchos that she has invited the lady gauchos to tea today and is convinced she must take up golf! We took her to the golf club with us yesterday and let her swing the club a few times, but Hill Houston says "no coordination."

All the residents of the Carmel Inn must be ambulatory and not require extensive medical care.

"The whole idea of the inn," she said, "is to create a comfortable and congenial atmosphere more like that of a home than a medical institution although there will be a 24-hour care and emergency medical facilities available."

One of the prime ways the staff is trying to eliminate the medical appearance by changing every place we go!

Tomorrow we go to an Estancia (ranch) for a barbecue, and our guide has promised to tell us all about Eva Peron, so will close this lengthy missile for now and continue at a later date.

CON AMOR,

not wearing uniforms. She believed, she said, that this was the only rest home to ever do this.

Located in the midst of a lovely garden setting, the Carmel Inn will provide private and semi-private rooms, a color television in every room, all meals and snacks and a variety of recreational activities in addition to numerous other benefits.

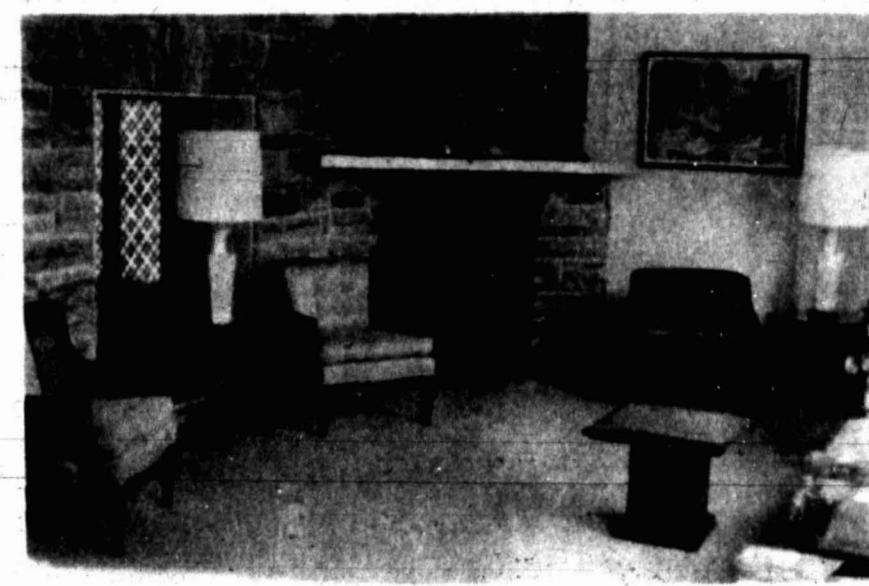

Everyone chipped in to get the inn ready with Mrs. Sylvester's four children, David, 16, Claudia, 14½, Linda, 13 and Dennis, 11, all adding their special touches.

Patton and his wife did a major portion of the inn's interior decorating. One weekend their daughter invited some friends over and they brought their sleeping bags with them and had a paint-in.

With the finishing touches still being added the Carmel Inn has already applied for state membership.

Mrs. Sylvester, who has a side background of experience in working with the elderly, has been a registered nurse for 18 years and was director of nursing at the Carmel Convalescent hospital during 1964-65.

The Stock Market— Which way? When? How far?

Nobody knows for sure. But Dean Witter & Co. believes that an understanding of the "why" of today's market is important in planning for tomorrow.

The firm's top-ranked analysts and economists, in an effort to determine what is in store for the market, have prepared a report assessing the diverse forces at work in the market place. Forces influenced by the corporate profit squeeze — inflation and the medicine needed to cure it — the Vietnam War — the historically high cost of borrowing — the impact of the institutional investors — the surge of speculation. The firm's experts on the Economic Policy Committee have determined that...

A Positive Investment Policy® should consider these questions:

- Which stocks should be bought today?
- How should Vietnam peace talks influence investment decisions?
- What is the outlook for the OTC market?
- Is this the time to buy bonds?

A report on the Committee's findings answers these questions and a number of other questions important to all investors. The report recommends a list of different types of securities to match individual investment goals. The informed investor should have a copy of this timely document. It is available at the local Dean Witter office. Just come in or write. Ask for A Positive Investment Policy®, Spring Market Outlook, 1969. There is no cost or obligation, of course.

Verdi's 'Il Trovatore' Will Be Heard Mar. 29 Over Metropolitan Network

Giuseppe Verdi's tragic four-act opera, "Il Trovatore," will be broadcast on Saturday, Mar. 29, over the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network, starting at 11 a.m., over KSCO, 1080 kc and KSCO-FM, 99.1 mc.

Singing principal roles will be soprano Leontyne Price as Leonora, mezzo-soprano Grace Bumbry as Azucena, tenor James McCracken as Manrico, baritone Sherrill Milnes in the role of Count de Luna, and bass John Macurdy as Ferrando. Zubin Mehta will conduct.

University of Texas Orchestra in Austin; Terry McEwen, manager of the classical division of London Records; Nathaniel Merrill, another of the Met's stage directors; and James Seaver, professor of history at the University of Kansas.

For this week's edition of his "Biographies in Music," Francis Robinson will relate the career of tenor Alessio de Paolis, long a favorite with Metropolitan Opera audiences.

Verdi's "Il Trovatore" ("The Troubadour") has been one of the most popular operas in the repertory since it was first given on Jan. 19, 1853. Its Metropolitan Opera premiere took place on Nov. 26, 1883.

The action of this exciting story of a gypsy's vengeance takes place in Biscay and Aragon in the middle of the 15th Century. Among the musical highlights are the Anvil Chorus, the famous "Miserere" sung by Leonora and Manrico; the duet between Manrico and Azucena, "Ai nostri monti" (Home to our mountains); and Leonora's solo, "D'armor sull' ali Rosee" (Love, fly on rosy wings).

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

the California School of Fine Arts, where he studied with Ansel Adams and Minor White, his serious interest in photography was confirmed.

At this stage in his photography he says that first "You must connect with the subject in the sense that you recognize that a meaningful image can be created to convey as well as document the interplay which occurs between yourself and the discovered image. One must wait until the hidden meaning is revealed. Recognize that there is a spiritual meaning in the subject but wait until the climax of its revelation as your own personal spirit gets out of the way."

WINNING COMBINATION — These three Padre distance runners finished in a sweep of the two mile event and were an important factor in Carmel's 98-46 thumping of Gonzales on Tuesday. From left is Tom Pelton, Mike Neeson and Mike Lumbad, and the 1-2-3 finish saw Mike Lumbad the winner, Tom Pelton second and Mike Neeson third.

HURDLE HUSTLER — The JVs also had a field day at the expense of Gonzales, drubbing the valley team 77-58. One of the best performances among the lightweights was turned in by Joe Carter, who took 1st place in the high hurdles.

UP, UP AND AWAY — Polevaulter Doug Updike squirms over the bar set at 13 feet 8 1/2 inches and picks up another flock of points for Carmel at Tuesday's track meet held on the Padre field. This jump by Doug not only won the event, but set a new school record.

Padres Drop 6-5 Squeaker to KC

King City took the measure of Carmel's varsity baseball team, 6-5, last Friday on the local diamond.

The Mustangs trailed by as much as two runs (at the outset and in the fifth inning when Padre Al Hood hit a two-strike 340-foot homer, his second of the year, to a break a two-all tie.)

Fastballer Lee Mark, Carmel's righthander, took a 4-2 lead to the mount in the last inning, but his three walks and hitting one King City batsman, coupled with two Padre errors, gave the visitors the three runs to win in the first league game of the season.

Next broadcast over KRSA-FM (100.7 Mc) is delayed coverage at 9 p.m. following the Monterey-Seaside broadcast when Carmel plays at Palma of Salinas, on Friday, Mar. 28.

The KC victory over Carmel was definitely an upset, as Mark's control was erratic . . . walking 11 and getting only five strike-outs as compared to his usual plus -10 whiffs per contest.

The Padres jumped to a two to nothing lead in the first inning on 2nd baseman Jay Argust's single, scoring Mal Hall and Rusty Vandervort who earlier had received free transportation to first, and advanced to second and third on a KC infield bobble.

Carmel had the lead in the game till KC tied it after scoring one run on one hit in the second and the tying counter off two hits in the fourth inning.

In the fifth stanza, Argust collected his second hit of the game, and with two out, Hood smashed his line-drive homer over the right field barrier to give Carmel a 4-2 command. At this stage, and until the disastrous final inning, it looked as if the Padres would take the contest.

KC's Baker relieved starting pitcher Pura in the sixth inning to get the credit for the victory.

Mark of Carmel went all the way with Mentor Monte Feekes electing to let him try to pitch himself out of the jams his walks set up, rather than relieving him with perhaps Hall or Vandervort.

'Breakthrough Chemical Analyzer Installed At Community Hospital

An automated analyzer to aid doctors in promptly diagnosing health of patients has been installed in the laboratory of Community Hospital.

Nicknamed SAM, the $61,500 leased system is capable of performing up to 12 different chemical analyses on a single blood serum sample at rates up to 60 samples per hour.

For the same cost $12.50) and in the same time (9 minutes) for one manually performed analysis, a patient may now get 12 different analyses, giving the doctor a much broader picture of the chemistry of a patient. Operated with a fail-safe system to assure accuracy, the analyzer helps with prompt diagnosis of unsuspected deficiencies so that prompt treatment will improve the health and hopefully prolong the life of patients, according to Dr. Osman H. Hull, pathologist who heads the hospital's laboratory.

SAM (a jockeying of SMA 12/60 — sequential multiple analyzer) employs a continuous flow analysis technique. Samples and reagents, separated and transported by air bubbles, stream through tubing from one testing module to another. Each module automatically carries out a different analytical function including sampling of unknowns and standards; metering of reagents; purification and filtration; heating and incubation; detection and recording.

The air bubbles fill the lumen. The pressure of the air maintains the integrity of each men of the tubing, maintaining air bubble against the inner wall of the tubing which might contaminate the samples which follow. An automated receiver sucks the serum from a test tube for 55 seconds and then spends 5 seconds cleaning itself before taking the next sample.

Each reaction segment passes through a flowcell where it is measured and charted on a serum chemistry graph.

The operator of the system, a technician who is on duty whenever the system is in operation, uses an oscilloscope which gives a continuous on-the-line visual presentation of what is happening in the analytical system. A glance at the oscilloscope face is sufficient to tell if the system is in phase and recording at steady-state levels.

Monterey Pine...Tree of Distinction

According to the Carmel Forestry Commission, Monterey Pine which dominates the local landscape, has many distinctions.

It is not quite as ordinary a tree as many think it to be.

Because it antedates the village, it is a tree the early citizens had to live with whether they liked it or not. It happens they liked it. Visitors did too. It is a picturesque tree when mature.

More than a hundred years ago the English took it home to grow as an ornamental. Now it is grown all over the world. It grows larger and with better color in Australia and South Africa where it is also grown as a valuable timber tree.

It is still used for lumber to some extent locally. The wood is hard, fairly strong and tough and durable away from the soil. It is almost as good a building material as Ponderosa Pine.

Of all the western pines (17 of them occur naturally) it is the easiest to grow from seed and to transplant, and it is drought resistant. In good soil it outstrips all other pines in rate of growth, sometimes becoming 10 to 15 feet tall in 5 years. The species has relatively few insect enemies until it becomes old.

It doesn't live as long as most pines, rarely reaching 150 years and when it becomes 80 to 100 feet tall in 50 years it may die young. Some of our citizens may outlive the pines they planted.

It may not be generally known that P. radiata does best away from the coast. The fogs, shifting sands and smothering effects of the lichen called "Spanish Moss" prevent its best growth. The farther away from these dark foggy areas the better it grows.

Monterey Pine's natural range used to extend farther north and south than it now does. Fossil remains of the cones indicate this.

An over-mature pine may often be an unsafe pine. Bob Tate, Carmel's City Forester, has a crew busy removing dying veteran trees and rotted dead limbs where they threaten to do damage. Some of our largest trees have got to go.

Of all the pines that might have been chosen for Carmel's forest Monterey Pine turns out to be the best from most angles. It's not just any old pine. It's a pine of distinction. And it was already here.

UNUSUAL GIFT

The Harrison Memorial Library has received an unusual gift.

Richard Leutzinger presented to the library three bound volumes of newspapers all of which print the news of the Assassination of President Kennedy.

Forty eight are in foreign languages and 86 are in English. Included among them are L'Ossevatore Romano of the Vatican, Izvestia of Moscow, Morgunbladid of Iceland, and the Cape Cod Standard Times of Hyannis, Mass.

The newspapers are bound according to size and for this reason the index which the donor kindly prepared will be much used and appreciated.

Patrons wishing to read or examine the collection may ask for it at the circulation desk. The volumes will not circulate but must be read in the library building.

The Barber Un-Seville

for MICKEY SMITH

*The tendency to torture man is all but obsolete.
The green bamboo from far Japan no longer spears the feet.*

*And furthermore we've done away with thumbscrew and with rack;
And let us pray the act da-fe will not be coming back.*

*The iron maiden's awful frame is virginal today;
Her rusty spikes no longer claim the lives of those who stray.*

*Apache squaws now silent sit; they've ceased to wield the brand,
Nor are a victim's eyelids slit while staked upon the sand.*

*The drawn-and-quartered traitor is something of the past.
Today his crime's no greater, but death is sure and fast.*

*Man's shown some slight ability for obviating pains;
Despite this new civility one torturer remains:*

*The European barber is still sadistic though;
What malice he could harbor I'm sure I'll never know.*

*But now I see he has reclined his ancient iron chair
That looks as though it were designed for more than cutting hair.*

*I fear my fate is apt to be as dark as any known,
And that I'll rise, undoubtedly, divested to the bone.*

*I shudder at the clippers he's wielding with such glee;

With vengeance he assails his task; my locks now fairly fly.

He does not even stop to ask: "How long?" lest I reply.

A pox on these redressors, who've plagued us since the flood;

Like all his predecessors, he's bent on letting blood.

*There should be some memorial for every luckless lad,
Who fell in wars tonsorial with some Marquis de Sade.*

*Of sideburns I am now bereft; a part I seem to lack;

So take the word of one beguiled, who's undergone the knife:

Become a long-haired flower child; it just might save your life!

Poetry Corner*When Swallows Return

Tourists focus cameras to record it so friends will believe March 19th, on St. Joseph's Day, swallows fly taking leave

From their unknown winter home, flying in flocks, never alone —

Little barn swallows migrate to their nesting home

Arriving at dawn on St. Joseph's Day
In a garden where brown robed Padres pray

Swooping down past white doves in a courtyard tree
Happy they're home, twittering they see

Father Junipero Serra's statue standing meditatively
Every year at Mission Capistrano it is the same

The Associated Press reports they came
They have nested in eaves by the courtyard tree

Always on St. Joseph's Day for almost a century.
Even though earth's weather moons in different years vary

Heaven directs them to the Mission, it's real, not legendary

Always on St. Joseph's Feast, never early, never late

The Padre ringing the Angelus for Mass looks up and they sing on his gate.

SEAGULLS

Seagull riding on the crest
Facing waves, taking high and low
Ebb and flow and into the sea
Facing waves, to the waves you go

Rolling sea, cold wind still cresting
Green and grey and blue
Riding top and facing more
Not far from land but sailing out to face the waves

Sun is setting, evening coming
Not a star is yet in sight
Grey sky, blue sky, glimpse of sky
Foggy sea still rolling in
Yet you ride on, in sight — out of sight
Going, sailing, riding out to sea

Water, white spray splashing on my sand
White foam, ripples, rushes, water rolling in Tumbling Water rolling in Breaking in and wandering back

Still you're riding out to meet the sea
Seemingly going nowhere — almost in the same spot
Just the sky, the ocean, you three spots
Yet you're life — within the horizon

A bit of beauty, a hope, a trust
A being left to survive
On the crests, taking wave and wave
But not yet taking wing.

THE BLOTER

by c.r. bee

Captain William Ellis and Sergeant Del Wermuth attended a two-day conference on homicide investigation at Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo.

The conference was attended by more than 400 peace officers from throughout California, and was sponsored by the Cal Poly department of police science.

I think I have read and heard at least four different versions of the excitement Mar. 12 in Carmel, so to set the record straight—

From the blotter of the Carmel Police Department—(The Carmel Business Association alert went into effect about 10 minutes before this report begins.)

Capt. William Ellis had a hot car notice for a late-model silver Thunderbird. About 2:10 p.m. on Mar. 12 he saw the car pull out of a parking place on Dolores near 6th.

He reported that he would follow the car and pull it over when clear of heavy traffic. The car turned south on San Carlos, left on 6th, and Ellis turned on his red light and honked the car over.

Driver stepped on gas, turned right on Mission to Ocean Ave., where he slammed on brakes and a female jumped out and began to run.

The captain radioed for help from Unit 402, Edd Fisher. Ellis chased the T-bird until he lost it in heavy traffic, then saw it in the Wells Fargo parking lot. Occupant ran into shopping area and Ellis lost him.

Chief Clyde Klaumann joined the chase, and at 3 p.m., a man answering the suspect's description was seen running into the Jade Tree Motel.

Chief Klaumann went to the motel, and a maid said she saw him go into room 57. Klaumann got the manager to open the room. There were open suitcases on the bed but no one in the room.

Klaumann looked out on the balcony, and lo, there was the suspect covering on the balcony to the adjacent room.

He arrested Allen C. Price, a parole violator from San Francisco who had stolen the car and credit cards in that city.

His "female" companion was Stacy Wahsaie of Toppenish, Wash., who was wearing female clothes purchased by Price with the stolen credit cards.

Both were booked into the county jail and transferred to the San Francisco police.

So much for Mar. 12's crime wave.

Last Sunday saw a rash of "sleeping or camping on the beach" arrests.

Mostly all juveniles, the arrests included three boys from Carmel, three from Pacific Grove, two from Los Angeles, three from Salinas and three from other areas.

Rotary Told Of Equator Changes

by Allman Cook

Every person in Alaska has 1½ million acres to play on said Dr. Olaf Averre Aamodt yesterday when he talked to Carmel Rotary Club about his activities in that area.

Dr. Aamodt is an agronomist. He theorizes in the practice of field-crop production and management.

In 1946 the federal government asked him to take charge of a group to make an exploratory investigation of the food production possibilities of Alaska.

He reminded the Rotarians that there are only 275,000 people in that state of 375,000 acres which cost the U.S. two cents per acre in 1967.

Dr. Aamodt said that the first things he tries to determine on a job of this kind are the resources of that country in terms of sunshine, moisture, soil, fossil fuel, and other growing factors.

He found that although Alaska was only producing about 15 percent of its food requirements locally, 80 percent could be produced if the proper methods and techniques were used.

Because much of the land above 62 degrees latitude will not sustain plants which produce seed and fruit that can be harvested, Alaska must be exploited for its grass growing suitability as range and forage for animals that can be consumed as food. This is one of the reasons that natives of Alaska must depend mainly on meat.

Aamodt said that although there are enormous resources in oil, coal, gas, timber and minerals, only about 1½ million acres were estimated suitable for agricultural purposes. This has been expanded to about two million acres, enough for Alaska's agricultural self sufficiency.

In Alaska we find some of the most recent evidence of the physical changes that have taken place in the last half million of the earth's four billion years.

If we bear in mind that the equator was approximately vertical to its present position through gradual moves in the last half a billion years, we find thru various evidence such as fossil specimens that Alaska once had a tropical environment. In a tropical environment, there is enough vegetation to ultimately produce the materials that result in coal deposits, oil and gas. Some of this is being quite dramatically found now in new northern Alaskan and Canadian oil fields.

"We are now exploiting these fossil fuels which originated during our Carboniferous period 225 million years ago and are now running this world. Some scientists have estimated our supply as sufficient until about the year 2000 although the fuel reserves represented in the northern discoveries are as much as have been used since the founding of our country."

In the last 66 million years the equator has dropped approximately 30 degrees and the greatest upheavals have occurred during this period. It is during these years that mammals have existed on earth.
